EXPERIENCED MANAGEMENT FOR YOUR CLIENTS' INVESTMENTS

Managing investments requires experience, specialized skill and a broad, up-to-date knowledge of business and economic conditions. Few investors have such qualifications.

That's why Bank of America can be of valuable service to your clients if they own securities. They have their choice of full management or limited advisory service.

Either way the bank provides custody of their securities, handling such things as stock rights, call dates, collection of bond coupons and dividends on stocks. The bank also gives periodic accountings to help with tax returns.

This Investment Management service is inexpensive. It costs nothing to open or close an account — all your clients pay is a small annual fee, which is tax deductible.

For the service that suits your clients best, ask at your nearest branch.

Our booklet EXPERIENCED MANAGEMENT FOR YOUR INVESTMENTS will show how your clients can profit by this Bank of America service.
